Kate interviews Clare Weze

Clare Weze was raised in the UK and has British and Nigerian heritage. She writes for adults and children and has always written around her day job, starting out as a hairdresser in London's West End, then moving on to a science degree, postgraduate studies and work in the fields of biomedical and environmental research. Her debut middle-grade adventure, The Lightning Catcher, was published by Bloomsbury in 2021.

Nat interviews James Lancett

James Lancett is a London based illustrator, director and yellow sock lover! As a child growing up in Cardiff he was obsessed with cartoons, video games and all things fantasy. As he grew up and became a lot more beardy these inspirations held strong and so he moved to London to study a BA Illustration and Animation at Kingston University. This degree opened the door to a job he had dreamt of ever since he was a kid and he now works as an illustrator and Storyboard artist for animation.

On Our Radar

On Liz's radar is ... going to Korea! Her book, that is.

Walking Your Human (written by Liz Ledden, illustrated by Gabriella Petruso and published by Larrikin House) has had its first international rights deal, and will be translated into Korean to be sold in the Korean market. Yippee!

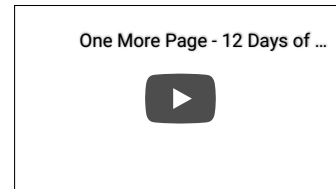

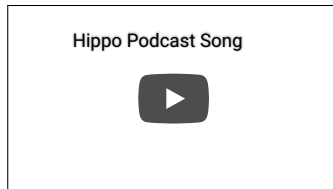

For more about this fun picture book (ideal for dog lovers!) check it out here.

Shout-out

Nat gives a shout-out to our awesome listener Tilly who wrote into us asking for more of this kind of silliness...
